Portfolio Information

The portfolio is an aggressive managed fund of funds. The investment objective is to provide the investor with a high level of capital growth over the long term. The portfolio is suitable for the investor looking for aggressive capital accumulation. The maximum equity exposure within the portfolio will be limited to 75%.

Investments will be made across a spread of asset classes and (apart from assets in liquid form) invest in equity securities, property securities and non-equity securities. The fund may make use of both domestic and global managers. The asset allocation is compliant with Regulation 28 of the Pension Funds Act.

Aggressive / Med - High Risk

This portfolio holds more equity exposure than a medium risk portfolio but less than a high-risk portfolio. In turn the expected volatility is higher than a medium risk portfolio, but less than a high-risk portfolio. The probability of losses is higher than that of a medium risk portfolio, but less than a high-risk portfolio and the expected potential long term investment returns could therefore be higher than a medium risk portfolio. Where the asset allocation contained in this MDD reflect offshore exposure, the portfolio is exposed to currency risks. The portfolio is exposed to equity as well as default and interest rate risks. Therefore, it is suitable for medium to long term investment horizons.

Market Commentary

South African index returns are quoted in Rands, while all other return figures are quoted in USD terms.*

The spotlight was on Minister Malusi Gigaba over the past month, as he delivered the 20th Medium-Term Budget Policy Statement. Minister Gigaba failed to offer the economy and Ratings agencies the policy certainty it currently needs. As a result, the market nervously reacted, pushing the 10-year Government bond yield from +8.8% to +9.4% (its highest since 2016).

Despite the volatile backdrop, the JSE closed the month mainly in the green, delivering +6.26% overall. Resources sustained their recovery since June of this year, posting a +6.37% return for the month. The star performer however, was the large rand-hedge industrial counters, returning 8.14% for the month. Financials posted the weakest sector return, at +2.1%.

In the US, equity markets continued to notch up higher, as favourable economic data showed a 3% year-on-year GDP growth, despite the recent hurricanes. The S&P500 closed the month 2.33% higher, ignoring the ongoing probe by special counsel Robert Mueller (into alleged Russian meddling in the 2016 U.S. presidential election, which could implicate President Donald Trump negatively), as well as uncertainty surrounding the new Fed chair.

October also saw the long-anticipated official announcement of Europe's plan on their Quantitative Easing program. The European Central Bank announced its intention to begin weaning the eurozone countries off billions of euros of monetary stimulus. This saw the Euro marginally losing some ground against some major currencies. Equity markets responded in kind, with MSCI Europe returning a flat 0.48%.

In Asia, Japan made the headlines, as Prime Minister Shinzo Abe was re-elected, following his overwhelming victory in a snap election. The equity market rallied by 8.1% in local currency terms, reaching a 21-year record high. Similarly, Chinese markets edged higher, as the China National Conference took place, solidifying President Xi Jinping's reign and vision. By month end, MSCI China's H-shares posted a +5.64% return, outperforming most major markets.

On the commodities front, the global oil benchmark, Brent crude (+7.9%), logged its fourth consecutive month-on-month gain, reaching a high of $61.21/bbl. This was buoyed by reports that OPEC and other oil producers would extend production cuts beyond the current March 2018 end date.

All performance figures are quoted in US dollars, unless otherwise stated. All market performances are shown in their respective local currencies*
