To provide a limited level of capital protection, the portfolio's equity may be as high as 40% of the portfolio's net asset value. In order to achieve its objective, the investments normally to be included in the portfolio may comprise a combination of assets in liquid form, money-market instruments, interest-bearing securities, bonds, debentures, corporate debt, equity securities, other interest-bearing securities, property securities, preference shares, convertible equities and non-equity securities. The portfolio may, from time to time, invest in listed and unlisted financial instruments. Asset class returns

The equity market continued its strong rally since the middle of the year, adding 6.3% in October, and 15.7% from June. Bonds depreciated by 2.3% and the rand weakened 4.2% in the wake of Finance Minister Malusi Gigaba's maiden medium-term budget policy statement. Meanwhile, property and cash returned 2.0 and 0.6% for the month, respectively.

Drivers of returns

The Industrial sector was the best-performing sector in October, returning 8.1% and bringing the YTD performance to 29.5%. Resources gained 6.4%, whilst Financials appreciated by 2.6%.

The depreciation of the rand meant that the best-and worst-performing shares can generally be identified by their rand-hedge characteristics. There were two notable exceptions to this trend: Capitec shrugged off the domestic newsflow and gained 10.0% for the month, while Mondi dropped 6.2% after a trading update that was below expectations.
