FUND MANAGER COMMENTARY AT 31 AUG 2024

Global recoveries. Despite an initial 10% correction in some markets, global stocks rebounded, ending the month positively. In the US, market performance was mixed; while the S&P 500 did not hit new highs after early August losses, the equal-weight index did, indicating broad-based gains across various sectors. A key development occurred at the US Federal Reserve's Jackson Hole symposium, where officials signalled a strategic shift after 16 months of aggressive rate hikes. With a potential rate cut anticipated for mid-September, this marked a significant change in monetary policy. The S&P 500 outperformed the tech-heavy Nasdaq 100, gaining 2.4% vs 1.9% for the month. In Europe, slowing inflation boosted equities, with the Euro Stoxx 50 up 1.8%, as investors anticipated a possible rate cut from the European Central Bank (ECB) in September. Japan's market faced initial setbacks due to an interest rate hike by the Bank of Japan but managed to recover, with the Nikkei 225 closing slightly down (-1.1% MoM). In South Africa (SA), easing inflation led to optimism for a rate cut, resulting in a 1.4% gain in the FTSE JSE All Share Index despite a significant drop in the resources sector of 9.7% MoM. Markets recorded a dynamic and eventful month, marked by volatility and unexpected growth. The portfolio outperformed the benchmark and the general peer group over the month. The performance was enhanced by our overweight position in both local bonds and equities, which outperformed in August.
